Figure 4.23: Leonardo DaVinci’s studies on proportions. The two rows contrast linear and as-rigid-as-possible interpolation of the figure. The difference is subtle, but Leonardo proves our method right (see the feet leaving the circle in the linear interpolation). The last row shows a transformation with more involved movements.